

THE CHARLEROI MAIL

VOL. XIV. NO. 242

CHARLEROI, WASHINGTON CO., PA., SATURDAY, APRIL 25, 1914

ONE CENT

DOGS COST WASHINGTON COUNTY LARGE AMOUNT

Unpaid Claims From Sheep Killed Aggregate $13,694.95

MANY CANINES HERE

Fidos and Rovers More Numerous in Charleroi Than Any Other County Town

In Washington county, according to the assessors' returns, there are 7,069 dogs, and the unpaid damages these canines have inflicted on the sheep flocks of the county is $13,694.95. To pay these claims the treasurer has but $720.16. The number of dogs in the county amounts to three and six-tenths per cent of the number of sheep returned.

The recent act of assembly places the tax on male dogs at $1.50 each and $3 for females, and with 7069 dogs assessed there will be available from this source the coming year $11,827.50. With the coming year amounting to $12,974.79 and the tax available to the amount of $1,147.29 it will be seen that at the end of the present year if no more sheep are killed by dogs and all of the taxes collected there will be a deficit. At the present time there are 323 claims unpaid. The largest claim is for $403 while several others total more than $100 each.

The canines are classified as to sex as follows: Males, 6,253 and females, 816. While this is the number returned to the commissioners by the assessors it is the general opinion that this will not include more than one-half the dogs that roam at will over Washington county.

According to a member of the Amwell township taxpayers' league, who has investigated the official returns, some of the assessors must be exceedingly lax in their duties. In the Fifth ward of Washington not a single dog was returned. After attention was called to the matter the assessors got busy and assessed 20 dogs. Charleroi has more dogs assessed than any other town in the county, not because there are more canines here, but because the assessors are more on their job than elsewhere. The number of dogs assessed in Charleroi is 426.

In 1876 Washington county produced 407,643 sheep. According to the census of 1910 there were but 196,005 sheep in the county at the time. The number of sheep are on the decrease, but the number of dogs is increasing at a rapid rate.

Many of the unpaid claims for damages in the commissioners office have been there for many months and will remain there for a long period before sufficient tax is received to pay them. The farmers are planning to make war on the dogs and assessors to see if sufficient tax cannot be turned in the county treasury to pay off these claims or else have the dogs killed.

Seems to be Economical

Man Wears Wooden Shoes and Seems Oblivious of Attention Attracted.

At least one man in Charleroi is showing an inclination toward beating the high cost of living. His name is not known but he is of foreign parentage, as might be guessed. It would never have been known perhaps that he was so economically inclined had he not been seen going up street this morning wearing a pair of wooden shoes. The shoes were evidently of foreign manufacture and evidently the man had brought them with him when he came.

LEAVES ESTATE TO WIFE

Will of Late W. H. Coles Probated at the County Seat

PROPERTY VALUE HIGH

W. H. Coles, late proprietor of the Hotel Wilbur, Charleroi, whose death occurred in New York City this week, where he was taken ill as he was preparing to leave for a European trip, left a will bequeathing all his property, amounting in the aggregate to about $100,000, to his wife. The will almost seems to carry with it a premonition that the writer would not return to Charleroi alive.

The instrument was drawn up on April 8, 1914, just prior to the time Mr. and Mrs. Coles started to New York City, where they expected to join a party of National Hotel Association men and their families, in a trip to Europe.

The first paragraph of the will reads as follows: "Being about to leave the United States for a trip to Europe, accompanied by my wife, in the event my death should occur before arriving at my home in Charleroi, and my wife should survive me and return alive to our place of residence at Hotel Wilbur, in the borough of Charleroi, I give devise and bequeath unto my wife, Georgiana Coles, her heirs and assigns forever, all my property and estate, real personal and mixed, of every kind, absolutely, and hereby appoint her as the sole executor of this my last will and testament." Letters were issued to Mrs. Coles on Friday.

Mr. Coles left Charleroi apparently in good health. He took suddenly ill in New York City, an operation was performed, and he failed to rally. His death occurred and the will he had only a few days before attested, be-

MISUNDERSTAND NEW STREET ORDINANCE

Recently Enacted Statute Fixing Charge for Permit Causes Some Mixup—Ordinance in Effect April 8

The passage by council of an ordinance regulating the granting of permits for opening up borough streets has resulted in some misunderstanding, and in at least one arrest.

Council passed the ordinance on April 7, and it went into effect with the signing of the ordinance by Burgess S. L. Woodward on April 8. The main feature of the ordinance was that providing for the placing of a bond of $25 for each 100 feet of ground excavated in the street.

When the work is finished and the street has been placed in condition approved by the borough engineer, the cost of engineering and supervision is subtracted, and the remainder returned to the person securing the permit.

One arrest occurred this week, the arrested person being a man from Donora who opened up the street without first going to the trouble of securing the permit by leaving his deposit of $25.

FEW DEVELOPMENTS IN TROLLEY AFFAIR

COMPANY WILL OPERATE CARS

Superintendent Callaghan Makes Statement—Says Situation Shows No Changes

Superintendent D. G. Callaghan said this morning there was practically no change in the street car situation on the lines of the Westside Electric Street Railways company and the Webster, Monessen, Belle Vernon and Fayette City Street Railways company.

"There is really nothing new," said Supt. Callaghan. "We have employed full crews to operate the cars." "Do you expect to continue running the cars day and night, just the same as before?" he was asked. "Yes. We propose to operate the cars precisely the same as before. There is no change in the situation."

The press committee of Charleroi local No. 657, Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railways, consisting of Robert Callaghan, Alfred Waldman, George Fullmer and Charles Flanders, stated after a meeting of last night that there was little to give out concerning the stated strike situation on the Monessen and Belle Vernon lines.

They say that four buses are being operated now between Charleroi and Monessen, with the Belle Vernon traffic also being supplied by buses. Arrangements have been made by the men to secure three more large buses by Monday, the press committee states. Everything so far has been going along in good shape.

The subject for discussion at Charleroi will be "Booze." The chairman of the meeting will be a local man.

Head-On Collision Takes Place on Pittsburgh-Charleroi Line

CARS ARE DAMAGED

Front End of One Said to Have Been Demolished—Passengers Badly Scared

Two large Pittsburgh-Charleroi cars came together in a head-on collision at about 8 o'clock this morning and while no fatalities resulted, it is stated that John Bartley, motorman of one of the cars, was hurt, and passengers on both cars badly shaken up. It was a narrow escape for everyone on the two cars.

A mixup of signals is stated to have caused the collision. There is a curve just at the point where the collision occurred, otherwise each motor man would have cognized of the approach of the other car. Ed. Elser was the motorman of one car. He was not hurt, it seems. The conductors were John Bartley and Leo Sweeney.

Both cars were more or less damaged by the collision. When they came together the crash was heard a long distance away. The cab of the car on which Bartley was motoring was mashed. The cab of the other car was not so much damaged.

Division Superintendent C. R. Buchanan was called from the Charleroi train to the scene, and directed the work of cleaning up the tracks.

AUTO TRUCK ESCAPES SERIOUS ACCIDENT

One of the large trucks that is being operated between Charleroi and Monessen in the recently established passenger service had a narrow escape from going over the embankment close to the Charleroi-Monessen bridge this morning. It seems according to the story told, that the truck slipped and broke a fence just this side of the Charleroi end of the bridge. Had it gone two feet farther, it is stated, it would have gone over the bank.

TWO TWO-REEL FILMS AT LYRIC THEATRE

"Three Bags of Silver" is the title of the sixth story in "The Adventures of Kathlyn" that will be produced as the leading features of the Lyric theatre show tonight. A unique story of Kathlyn's adventures with brigands is told. Interest centers in Kathlyn's efforts to escape from the difficulties surrounding her in the African desert country. "Out of the Depths" is a two part picture that will be produced today. It is a film story of a young bank clerk who is indirectly accused of theft of which he is not guilty. To escape what seems to him to be impending disaster from the accusation the young man enlists in the navy. The closing feature of the show's program will be a comedy, "Three Pairs and a Cat."

A CLEANUP NECESSARY
If the United States is to dip into the Mexican imbroglio at all, it should not let up until it has made a thorough clean-up of the whole situation. The great essential is to restore peace and order, and this cannot be accomplished until the Mexican people are put in a position to become happy and contented owners of homes and firesides. The land must be made accessible to the people, the system of peonage abolished, good schools instituted, and every natural opportunity with which Mexico is doubly blessed thrown open for the exploitation of the common people.
The Mexican government is a failure because the Mexican people have no middle class. There a man is either relatively speaking, a "prince or a pauper." The land is held in large estates, which have descended from the old Spanish grants, when the idea of nobility—of master and servant —was in vogue. There is little intellectual development, and poverty and ignorance go hand in hand. It is the system that is at fault, and until this is changed there is little hope for peace and stability in Mexico.

This is the task that now confronts the United States if it really desires to be a factor in restoring tranquility in Mexico. It must first put the Mexican people on the right road toward progress and development, and this is one of the gigantic tasks of the age. We believe that our government is capable of fulfilling the mission that lies before it.

WAR MEANS COAL War with Mexico—it is war because there is fighting—means demand for coal—for coal for the mightiest fleet of war vessels ever sent to sea with militant purpose, and each vessel of which must use hundreds of tons of coal a day, says the Coal and Coke Operator and Fuel Magazine. "This coal will all go—according to precedent—from mines in the Pocahontas and New River regions of West Virginia; but to the extent that it does so it will relieve pressure on the markets of the west, and to some extent at tidewater points, so that the westward shippers will be relieved somewhat of ruinous competition, and the producers of Maryland and Central Pennsylvania will find it less arduous to do business at tidewater points.
"These aspects of the situation, however, are not all. War means waste, of material as well as of men, and to maintain the fleets, to supply parts of guns and machinery of vessels and of ordinance for the army means a thrill of energy for millions of manufacture. This will also cause a demand for more coal in local communities, some where coal is abundantly produced and in others far removed from coal-mining neighborhoods. Transportation means for coal will also be enlarged.

"How long will this condition last?
Some who pretend to clairvoyant vision and claim possession of prophetic minds say for several years. Therefore we look for pronounced improved conditions of the coal trade during the ensuing year."

ELECTRIC SPARKS

Irregularity is the life of Mexican fighting.
If a person didn't know better they might even mistake a checker score for a baseball box.
Ella Wheeler Wilcox says that a man ought to make it a point to talk to his wife at least once a day. But what chance has he to talk ten minutes when she is around.
The trouble with many is that they take too much time to explain things.
Governor Blease ought to make a good warrior. Let's send him to Mexico and find out.
The difference between war and war is a formal declaration.
Married men are not to be accepted as volunteers until the supply of single men is all gone. But then the government has to take some method of protecting the wives.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

Stage Manager Harry Barnhart of the Palace Theatre will not permit any vulgarity or coarseness in the vaudeville bills where he is in charge.
Although he always warns each new arrival of the policy of the house, sometimes an actor or an actress pulls one over in the first show in the difference of opinion as to what constitutes the forbidden language. The offense, however, is never repeated.
This policy is rigidly adhered to the great Keith circuit, the greatest vaudeville booking house in this country, or in the whole world for that matter. This is the company that fills the bills at the Grand Opera House in Pittsburg. Our Keith has dozens of houses of his own scattered throughout the country. In the dressing rooms of all of his theatres signs like this are displayed:
"Don't say 'Slob.' 'Sun-of-a-gun,' or 'Hully Gee' on this stage unless you want to be canceled peremptorily.
"Do not address any one in the audience in any manner. If you have not the ability to entertain Mr. Keith's audiences without risk of offending them, do the best you can.
"If you are in doubt as to the character of your act consult the local manager before you go on the stage, for if you are guilty of uttering anything sacrilegious or even suggestive, you will immediately be closed and will never again be allowed to appear in a theatre where Mr. Keith is in authority."

"Since we got the victrola at our house we're tango mad," said a Charleroi citizen the other day. "Every member of our family puts in all the spare time possible tangoing to the latest tango record music. We have the victrola in the dining room, and while my wife and I are tangoing there I hear sounds out in the kitchen that makes me think our hired girl is taking solitary lessons also.
"Why even the baby is beginning to take steps that are suggestive of a variation of the tango."

MISSION MEETING WILL BE HELD IN CITY NEXT WEEK

Preparations have been completed for the Sixth Biennial Assembly and the 44th anniversary of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Philadelphia Board, to be held in the Shady Side Presbyterian Church, Pittsburg, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, April 28, 29 and 30. A splendid program has been arranged in addition to the regular convention routine and it is expected a pleasant and profitable time will be had by all who attend.

There will be addresses and conferences on all subjects pertaining to woman's work, young peoples meetings and many auxiliaries of all denominations will be present. The feature of the convention will be the address of Dr. John R. Mott to be given at the First Presbyterian church on Wednesday evening, April 29. This meeting will be for all, and is expected to attract a large audience, as Dr. Mott is one of the best known men in the country in this work. Mrs. Rev. Wallace Radcliffe, of Washington, D. C. will give an illustrated lecture on Tuesday at the opening of the convention.

The Philadelphia board is the largest of the six woman's boards of this country and comprises 11 synods and 77 presbyteries, representing more than 2,800 societies and bands and a great number of delegates are expected to be in attendance at the meetings. Since it has been 14 years since Pittsburg has had the privilege of entertaining this assembly it is believed that all the workers within a reasonable distance from Pittsburg have planned to be present to gain information, inspiration and enthusiasm from the great gathering of women.

CHARLEROI CLUB PRESIDENT AFTER A NEW TWIRLER

President P. B. Wreath Friday right wired to Manager H. J. West-erwick whom McGraw gave an unconditional release on account of inexperience and an already full roster.
Westerwick went to the Giants from the semi-pro ranks of the Pittsburg district. From the form that he showed last year and the year before, he should prove a winner in the Pa-W.
Va. league.
President Wreath announced that he would give a season pass good for gate and grandstand to any man, woman or child in the Monongahela valley who sends in the most appropriate name for the baseball park.
All baseball parks around the country, he says, are known by a regular name, and he sees no reason why the Charleroi park should not be given a significant name. He proposes to have a committee choose the name from those submitted, the name to be painted on the archway of the park in bright colors.
The new score board is all ready for the paint and Manager O'Day is working on a scheme to fill it up.

of the estate, provides for bequests to relatives of the deceased, and sets forth fully just what shall be done in settling up the estate. The latter portion of the will though, the wife having survived her husband, and having returned to Charleroi, is of no effect whatever, and the two paragraphs above quoted, constitute the will.

Mr. Coles left an estate estimated to be worth almost $100,000. The hotel, land, equipment, etc., is valued at $75,000. He held $7,200 life insurance. Other goods and property are estimated to be worth $2,000. Mr.
Coles carried an accident policy for a large sum.

utor, the hotel liquor license was transferred to her Friday.

FELT THEY HAD BEEN ROBBED

"Crooked" Conduct of Boss Came as a Shock to Even His Hardened Heelers.

These tales of bagmen that District Attorney Whitman of New York is bringing out recalled to a veteran polician the experience of the boss of a western city, who was something in the way of a political collector himself.

One day near the close of a hot campaign he managed to round up some five thousand dollars. With a couple of his pals he had a bibulous celebration about 2 in the morning he was clinging to a lamppost and trying to call a cab when two of his heelers were in sight. He knew they would rob him if they suspected he had money. Practically he greeted them with:

"Hello, fellows: lucky you happened along. I'm dead broke and want a cab.
Get one and take me to my hotel and I'll make good."

When they reached the hotel the drunken boss sleepily asked the clerk to give each of his companions a five dollar bill. At the same time he drew from his trousers pocket a huge roll of bills and throwing it at the clerk told him to "keep that wad of stuff in a safe place until morning."

Disgustedly the heelers watched the safe door close on the young fortune that had escaped them, while the boss sank into a chair.

"Oh, you thief!" angrily shouted one of the heelers, as he shook his fist under the nose of the boss. "That's the meanest double cross you ever gave a friend in your whole crooked career. You said you was broke and you had thousands in the wad. Con-bed us of it."

British Trolley Lines.

In 1912 the trolley lines of Great Britain carried more than 3,000,000,000 passengers. This traffic was carried on 2,642 miles of track and in less than 13,000 cars. Significant also is the fact that whereas in 1900 there were 37,000 horses employed in hauling street cars, in 1912 there were only 1,500.

Ambulances.

Ambulances date from the closing years of the eighteenth century. Prior to that time surgical assistance did not reach the battlefield till the day after the engagement, or later, when to a large proportion of the wounded it was of no avail. About 1792 Larrey introduced the "flying field hospitals," capable of moving from place to place with speed, like the "flying artillery" of the time. Nobly assisted by Napoleon, Larrey brought his system to a fair degree of perfection. It was not until the great Civil war in the United States, however, that the ambulance system reached a thorough organization. Since then the system has, of course, received many important improvements.

for clients whose husbands were killed in an explosion in the Cincinnati mines of the company on April 23, 1913. In each of the suits damages are asked to the amount of $10,000.
Mrs. Edith Baichis makes claim for the death of her husband, Peter Baichis; Mrs. Pterenele Aprimis, for the death of her husband, Victoros Aprimis; Mrs. Katie Lawrence, for the death of her husband, Joe Lawrence; Mrs. Victoria Kausuk, for the death of her husband, Joe Kausuk; Mrs. Rose Fabian, for the death of her husband, Matthew Fabian, Maggie Berry, for the death of her husband, William Berry.

Asking for $10,000 damages for the death of her husband, Charles Meklenis, killed in the Cincinnati mine explosion, Mrs. Nellie Meklenis entered Consolidated Coal and Coke Company

WILL CELEBRATE BRIDGE OPENING AT BROWNSVILLE

Preliminary preparations are under way for a big celebration to take place at Brownsville some time in August to properly observe the opening of the new county bridge spanning the Monongahela river, and to celebrate the centennial of the chartering of the two towns as boroughs.
The celebration that will be arranged, likely will be in the nature of a home coming week.

A committee has been appointed to get plans under way for the event.
On the committee are H. O. Hornbake James S. Craft and George J. Edel, as active members. The entire executive committee consists of Charles L.
Snowden, Roland C. Rogers, George L. Moore, Samuel E. Taylor, Dr. Wilbur M. Lilley, Charles E. Eckles, W.

FIRST SHOW OF THE YEAR COMING TUESDAY, MAY 5

Away from the old time methods of presenting tented amusement enterprises, is Jones Bros. and Wilson's Trained Wild Animal Circus which is to appear in Charleroi May 5. As its title denotes, wild animal features predominate, but do not by any means form all of the program; high class European circus novelties, and high class horse, pony, dog and monkey acts are interwoven into the program with such varied effects, that the onlooker is taken from one surprise to another with such wonderful rapidity that he hardly knows what to expect next, and it is in the arranging of the program so as to take advantage of these surprises wherein lies the charm of Jones Bros. and Wilson's performances.

A noticeable feature of the show is its absolute freedom from anything suggestive that mars so many performances; its clean wholesome fun, the real comedy of the clowns, in burlesquing important topics of the day, and grotesque impersonations of people prominent in the limelight, is real humor and greatly appreciated.

The high standard of excellence maintained throughout the entire program, stamps it as an attraction in a class by itself. Unrivaled by any other amusement enterprise ever seen in this section of the country.

NOTED ACTRESS TO APPEAR IN THE LEADING ROLE

The attraction for Monday at the Palace theatre will be a three-part picture with Miss Marion Leonard the noted and talented actress in the leading role. "The Awakening of Donna Isolla," is an exciting drama of love and intrigue. The picture is an entrancing story of a woman's intuition, and sublime faith in the power of love. "The Awakening of Donna Isolla," is said to be one of the most charming stories ever produced.

SISTER: READ MY FREE OFFER!

I am a woman.
I know a woman's trials.
I know her need of sympathy and help.
If you, my sister, are unhappy because of ill-health, if you feel unfit for household duties, social pleasures, or daily employment, write and tell me just how you suffer, and ask for my free ten days' trial of a home treatment suited to your needs. Men cannot understand women's sufferings. What we women know from experience, we know better than any man. I want to tell you how to cure yourself at home at a cost of about 12 cents a week.
If you suffer from women's peculiar ailments causing pain in the head, back, or bowels, feeling of weight and dragging-down sensation, falling or displacement of pelvic organs, causing kidney and bladder weakness or constipation and piles, painful or irregular periods, catarrhal conditions and discharges, extreme nervousness, depressed spirits, melancholy, desire to cry, fear of something evil about to happen, creeping feeling along the spine, palpitation, hot flashes, weariness, sallow complexion with dark circles under the eyes, pain in the left breast, or a general feeling that life is not worth living.

I INVITE YOU TO SEND TODAY FOR MY FREE TEN DAYS' TREATMENT and learn how these ailments can be easily and surely conquered at home without the dangers and expense of an operation. When you are cured, and able to enjoy life again, you can pass the good word along to some other sufferer. My home treatment is for young or old. To Mothers of Daughters, I will explain how to overcome green sickness (chlorosis), irregularities, and lassitude in young women, and restore them to plumpness and health. Tell me if you are worried about your daughter. Remember, it costs you nothing to give my home treatment a ten days' trial, and does not interfere with daily work. If health is worth asking for, then accept my generous offer and write for the free treatment, including my illustrated booklet, "Woman's Own Medical Adviser." I will send all in plain wrappers post-paid. To save time, you can cut out this offer, mark your feelings, and return to me. Send today, as you may not see this offer again. Address,

MEMORY AND ABILITY

GENERAL IDEA THEY ARE SYNONYMOUS TERMS IS WRONG.

Numerous Instances in History Where Men of Intellect Were Notorious for Their Forgetfulness—Humorous Case in Court.

During the course of a recent trial instituted for the purpose of deciding whether an aged millionaire had need of a guardian to administer his affairs, one of the principal arguments supporting the charge of incompetency related to defective memory. The issue is full of human interest and can be discussed as a psychological problem quite apart from the legal merits of this particular case.

Fate was surely in her most ironic mood when she tempted an alienist to testify that the octogenarian must be incompetent because of a faulty recollection of the court proceedings, and then forced the specialist to confess that he could not remember a question which had been asked him only a few minutes before. Jost with him own petard, the expert from the striking lesson should outweigh all the personal discomfiture to which he was subjected.

There are few fallacies more generally entertained than the theory that memory is an index to mental capacity. While it is true that an utter inability to recall anything outside of the fixed idea is a sign of insanity, it is equally true that many men who have made their mark in the world have notoriously bad memories. That is to say, they are remarkable for the things they forget, but it will usually be found that theirs is the treasure of a selective memory retaining only what is useful for present purposes.

A distinguished politician, also something of a wag, said that he owed his success to an aptitude for forgetting everything, including promises and convictions, but excepting names and faces.

On the other hand there are countless instances of men with phenomenal memories who, scarcely knew enough to come in out of the wet. They are literally peripatetic encyclopedias, very useful for reference purposes to others, but totally unable to focus their knowledge with any effect upon a given object. Their minds are junk shops rather than work shops.

As a French philosopher observed, a general is not great in proportion to the magnitude of his army, but in proportion to his command of the army for any immediate situation. Better a small army under perfect control than an unwieldy force apt to degenerate into a rabble when faced by superior order. He applied the illustration to the field of thought and showed that it was not the multitude of disorganized ideas, but the smaller number well arranged that usually won mental conflict.

In other words, success in life, to say nothing of mere competency in the legal sense, is not a matter of memory. It is the judiciously selective rather than the indiscriminately retentive brain that counts in the battle of life. Some few men have had prodigious memories which were not developed at the expense of the reasoning processes, but as a rule the law of compensation holds, and too much intellectual fat means too little intellectual muscles.

Two Armies.

Last month was celebrated at Leipzig the centenary of that terrific "Battle of the Nations" which ended Napoleon's domination of central Europe. At the same time the American Electric Railways association was holding its annual meeting at Atlantic City. This body represents the employment of over 300,000 people—a number about equal to that of the allied forces at Leipzig. These workers are trained and exercised daily in steadiness, industry, efficiency; in the instant recognition of fact and skillful response to the call of duty. By these things they live and so doing, they play a great part in the life of their time. The resulting spirit of helpfulness is proved by the action taken for pensions, insurance and profit sharing. In comparison with this triumphant army of peace how fantastic is the glory of the men who met at Leipzig to kill each other a hundred years ago!—Collier's.

Consular Mass.

It is not generally known that in all the large cities in the Levant wherever there is a French consular agent a special mass, called the consular mass, is celebrated once a month. "At this mass," says Le Cri de Paris, "all the diplomatic corps attend as well as the representatives of orthodox Russia, and Protestant Germany. But the mass is always presided over by the French consul. The latter is seated in the place of honor, where a large red velvet chair with golden feet is prepared for him. No other diplomat has such a seat. Whatever the rank of our agent, everybody respects his prerogative, and our representative, whether he be Lutheran, Calvinist, Israelite or Free Mason, never fails to exercise it."

No Danger.

"Johnny," said the elderly gentleman to the youngster who was puffing away at a cigarette, "aren't you afraid of bringing your father's hairs in sorrow to the grave?"
"Nothin' doin'," replied the urchin "Pon's bald-headed!"

HAD RIGHT BREAKFAST IDEA

In Days When Overeating Was Common, Englishman's Menu Was Worthy of Praise.

Queen Elizabeth, it is said, ate several kinds of salt fish, and sometimes beef and mutton for breakfast, and then topped off with a good deal of wine and ale. Of course, she lived in the days before tea and coffee and chocolate were used in England—hence the alcoholic beverage for breakfast. Most of Elizabeth's subjects ate as grossly at breakfast as she did, and it is our habit to believe that there were no old-time advocates of the light breakfast which most of us have come to accept as the normal one today.

But at the time of Elizabeth there lived one Dr. Tobias Venner who was an ardent advocate of the light breakfast. In fact, good old Doctor Venner advocated no breakfast at all for those whose work in life was not especially active. To those whose work was active Doctor Venner was somewhat lenient and advised a little breakfast. Says he:

"If any man desire a light, nourishing and comfortable breakfast, I know none better than a couple of poached eggs, seasoned with a little sauce and a few corns of pepper, eating there with a little bread and butter, and drinking after a good draught of claret wine."

Substitute coffee for claret wine and you have a breakfast which a physician of the day might recommend to a man who has been overeating.

Emigrant's Romance.

How a photograph led to a romance was made known at Liverpool just before the departure for Australia of the White Star liner Irishman, which carries no fewer than five brides-elect going out to join their fiancés.

One of these five has never seen her future husband, and has nothing but a photograph to tell her what he looks like. The bride-elect said that a friend of hers went to Australia three years ago as a domestic servant and married later a sheep farmer. The young wife displayed upon the mantelpiece a photograph of a chum of the sheep farmer. Photographs were exchanged and a correspondence was begun, with the result that the girl has sailed to marry the lover she has never seen.

World's Turquoise.

Ninety-nine per cent. of the world's turquoise comes from the mines of Nishapur, in Khorassan, the Persian city, by the way, in which Omar Khayyam was born and is buried.

The mines are situated in a range of hills consisting entirely of porphyries, greenstone, limestone, and sand stone. The turquoise is found in veins in the rocks. This ridge of hills runs to a height of 6,655 feet; the highest point at which turquoise has been found is 5,300 feet above sea level; the lowest point, 4,800 feet.

One mine is entered through a natural cave running out on to the side of the mountain, and is worked by means of rough shafts and levels.

TO ATTEMPT SETTLEMENT OF STRIKE

A movement has been made by the Chamber of Commerce of Monongahela to try to adjust the differences that exist between the striking employees of the Pennsylvania Railroad and the company. With that end in view a meeting was called by President Robert H. Robertson for Friday night, but as the committee was unable to get the hall for that date the meeting was postponed until next week. Quite a number of the former employees live at Monongahela, and enforced idleness is having a bad effect upon business. For this reason the chamber of commerce seeks to adjust the difference.

Advertising

THERE once was an assumption that men who advertised were fraudulent in their intents, hence arose the idea that advertising was unethical and this fallacy still obtains in the traditions of a few certain societies and professions.

COMMONSENSE people all now recognize the value of letting the public know who you are, and what you have to offer in the world in the way of commodity or service.

WHEN we speak of advertising we speak of the most powerful force that acts today in the world of business.

THE American people form by all odds the best educated and most open-minded public in the world. All they want is the truth, and when get that, they act clearly, logically and some times with surprising speed.

THE public wants to know the facts. It wants the facts about a kind of shoe or a brand of flour. It wants to know the kind of stuff that goes into a suit of clothes or a package of crackers.

The One Thing Above All Others

The Public Demands is Publicity

IT has learned to be very skeptical about any event that occurs in the dark.

DO not keep your light under a bushel and create the opinion that you are no longer in business. Let the people know what you have to offer to them.
